Hello Everyone

As the leaves gracefully tumble from the trees, our village undergoes a breathtaking transformation. Rudston's picturesque surroundings take on a new charm, with vibrant shades of red, orange and yellow adorning the landscape. It's the perfect time for long walks, capturing stunning photographs or simply appreciating the simplicity and beauty of nature.

As always, Rudston has a calendar full of exciting events to look forward to in the coming weeks. From cosy bonfires to our own Rudston Christmas Craft Fair on Sunday 5th November, there's something for everyone to enjoy. Be sure to mark your calendars and join in the festivities that bring us together (check out Dates for your Diaries section in this newsletter).

We also have advertising space available. Advertising starts from £2.50 for a quarter page. Dear Friends

November is a poignant month in the church calendar, it has strong themes of remembering and belonging. On All Saint's Day (1st November and especially important to us at 'All Saints' church!) we remember and celebrate all the men and women, past and present, in whose lives we've seen the grace of God powerfully at work.

The day after All Saint's Day is All Soul's Day (also known as Commemoration of the Faithful Departed). This traditionally invites us to remember those we love but no longer see. It falls on Thursday 2nd November when I'll be in church at 6pm taking a short service to pray for those who have died and lighting candles as we remember them. You are very welcome to join me and do the same. If you can't make it but would like me to pray and light a candle for someone, please put their name on a list that will be at the back of church.

Remembrance Sunday continues in the theme, and we also confront issues of war and peace, loss and sacrifice. As in past years we will have an act of remembrance at the war memorial at 11am (gathering around 10.50am).

With every blessing,
Glyn

*One family, we dwell in him,
one Church, above, beneath;
though now divided by the stream,
the narrow stream of death*

RUDSTON NEWS AND EVENTS

ALL SAINTS CHURCH, RUDSTON, SOCIAL COMMITTEE

We would like to thank everyone who came to the Organ Concert in September and filled the Church to enjoy music of all kinds played on the organ by Stephen Parker. He really put the organ through its paces and showed us what it is capable of. Thanks to John Walker for organising the event and for providing the supper. Thanks to those who gave raffle prizes and those who helped on the night. Ticket money was £500, the raffle raised £125 and donations received to date £80 so the final total raised towards the upkeep and potential repairs to the organ is £705. So again, thanks to all involved.

We hope many of you had a look at the Harvest Festival arrangements in Church even if you didn't manage to get to the Harvest Festival. Thanks to all who contributed and gave up their time and used their talents to make the Church look so beautiful and celebratory for this important festival in our rural community.

We hope to be serving Sherry and Mince Pies at the Carol Service and hope to have a Coffee Morning in Advent too so please watch out for dates on posters, fliers and local social media.

Thanks for your support in the past and we look forward to it in the future.

Charlotte brought her Body Shop products to sell during Coffee Shop. It was nice to see what she had to sell and orders could be taken from her on the day, which she then delivered later during the week.

Heather used the free table for two weeks to sell Charity Christmas Cards for Collie Rescue raising money for a good cause.

If you would be interested in having a table at the Coffee Shop, please contact via the Rudston Facebook page, speak to someone at the coffee shop or leave a note in the letter box outside village hall. You can use the table to sell or advertise something. We just ask that you advertise that you are there to help your stall and the Coffee shop.

Did you hear the bells? We're excited to share the fantastic experience the children had during our recent visit to the church, where they had the opportunity to ring the church bells. We'd like to extend our heartfelt thanks to Glyn and Michael, who generously allowed us to bring the children for this unique and memorable experience.

Navigating the small, winding stairs to the bell tower was an adventure in itself, and when we reached our destination, we were presented with the three magnificent bells. Under the expert guidance of Michael, the children learned the art and technique of bell ringing. Once they got the hang of it, there was no stopping them! We hope you enjoyed listening to the ringing; it's clear that we have some budding campanologists among us!

While at the church, we also had the opportunity to explore the Heritage Centre and the 3D model of our village. The children were excitedly trying to find their homes and local landmarks, making it a fun and educational experience for everyone.

We want to express our deep gratitude to all the volunteers who made this evening possible.

Our next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, 14th November at the Village Hall from 6.30pm to 8 pm. We welcome all children to join us for what promises to be another exciting gathering.

We are delighted to share with you that The Bosville Arms has retained its 5-star food rating. Congratulations to Sara and her team for their hard work in ensuring this was maintained.

Autumn now seems to be upon us. We have launched a new menu focusing on fresh local produce, have a new children's menu and continue to offer the Lite Bites. The Christmas menu is now also ready, it's not too soon to start planning and making your reservations. Please pop in to view or check them out on the various social media platforms.

We are still looking for new players for the Dominoes team. Meet new people and make new friends on a Sunday Evening. We play in the Bridlington & District Mixed 5 & 3's Dominoes League. Please contact The Bosville Arms or Alison Starkey.

Dates for your Diary

Wednesday 15th November - Mid-Week Men

Tuesday 21st November - Ladies Supper and Social

Monday 11th December - Ladies Supper and Social

Please support these community events if you are able, they are put in place for your enjoyment 😊

We still wish to attract more people to the committee. There is a vacancy for the treasurer position, no bookkeeping is required as we have employed a professional, but if you have experience in management accounts, we would love to hear from you. We are also looking for help with maintenance so if a committee is not your thing, but you could spare us a few hours a month we would really appreciate your help.

We held a drop-in surgery on Saturday 28th October at The Bosville Arms for anyone to attend if they had questions or ideas, or just wanted to call in for a chat. We are looking to do these bi-monthly if they prove successful.

*Remember, you don't have to wait for an event to have a get together with family and friends.
We serve Tea, Coffee and Cake all year round.*

Rudston Tennis Club

As the colder and wetter weather approaches, we have started playing indoors at Pindar Leisure Centre on a Thursday evening, as well as keeping social tennis on a Sunday morning when weather permits. If you would like to play at Pindar, please let me know.

The near tarmac tennis court needs repainting in the Spring and we are applying for grants to help with the cost of this. The far court was painted last Spring and the difference is amazing when you compare playing on the 2 courts.

Anyone is welcome to join in social tennis either on a Thursday evening or a Sunday morning. Keep up to date by looking at our Facebook page.

Thorpe Hall, Rudston, East Yorkshire: A Historic Gem Amidst the Countryside

THORPE HALL

Thorpe Hall, nestled in the tranquil village of Rudston in the East Riding of Yorkshire, is a historic gem that has witnessed centuries of English history. With its picturesque location, stunning architecture, and rich heritage, Thorpe Hall stands as a testament to the enduring legacy of the past and the preservation of cultural heritage.

Historical Origins:

Thorpe Hall is the only house on the site of the former village of Thorpe. Nothing is known of the village which was taxed with Rudston in 1377. The date of depopulation is unknown. The hall probably stands on the site of the medieval manor house of the Thorpe family. It was quite a modest house in 1672 when owned by Thomas Wood. The present house was probably built by Thomas Hassell (d. 1738) soon after his marriage in 1716 to Ann Wentworth (d. 1748), daughter of Sir Matthew Wentworth of Bretton Hall, West Riding. Various family connections were rebuilding their houses in the period 1710-20, including Sir Richard Osbaldeston at Hunmandby (uncle of Ann Wentworth and brother-in-law of her husband Thomas Hassell) and Sir William Wentworth at Bretton Hall (brother of Ann Wentworth).

It was the coming of age in 1886 of Alexander W.M. Bosville, who had inherited the estate as a baby, and his marriage that year to Alice Middleton that brought about changes to the house and grounds. Immediately extensive additions were made on the west side of the house, and soon after Alice, later Lady Macdonald, set about transforming the gardens.

In her memoirs All the Days of My Life published in 1929 Lady Macdonald recalled that when she first came to Thorpe Hall it stood 'close to a grass field at the back of the house [south side], and not far from the road which passed in front of it [north side]; this looked very wrong to my Scottish eyes, accustomed as they were to "policies" [that is, shrubberies and gardens all round a family house], so presently, Alex let me make a garden behind the house, stretching down to the "Ponds" - enlargements of the Gipsy Beck which ran past at the foot of the opposite hill. This garden became very pretty as the years went on, and has now made for itself quite a reputation for beauty.

Near the house, terraces and steps were made, and a stone terrace with balustrading and curved steps was attached to the old part of the house. Here stand big bay-trees and flowering shrubs in pots, and among them comfortable white painted wicker garden chairs, and at the back a big oak settle. A broad grass walk hedged with yew leads from the terraces right down the garden, and the look of this is continued on the opposite shore of the ponds up the hill to a vista through the wood on its top. This grass walk is intersected by a lavender walk and a small yew walk leading to little hidden gardens - and a little 'Secret

Garden' lies behind pleached limes to the west of the grass central walk. A fine 6 lead Mercury, designed by J. H. M. Furse, stands at the end of the broad grass walk farthest from the house. Other "old stone" statues are placed in nooks about the garden.' (Macdonald, All the Days, 50-51) The Secret Garden, bounded by lime hedges, and to the west of the main lawn, was the last addition to the gardens, possibly in the early 1920s (Wood, Historic Homes, 126-7) Lady Macdonald also noted that 'the east side of the gardens beyond the rough grass bit for bulbs and beyond a gravel walk and the shelter border' was the village cricket ground 'just below the terraced croquet ground'. Backing the croquet ground was the orangery and reception room which served as the cricket pavilion. (Macdonald, All the Days of My Life, 51)

Other changes to the wider landscape in the later 19th century concerned the plantations. The plantation along Woldgate and bounding the southern edge of South Side and forming an end to the landscape to the south was cleared away before 1890, as was the southern half of the plantation bordering the east side of South Side. The most southerly section of the narrow plantation bordering the west side of South Side was removed between 1890 and 1910. A new plantation known as The Belt, eventually extending to 19 acres (ha) was created in the south-west corner of the parkland south of the Upper Pond, between 1890 and 1910, by extending westwards the northern part of the South Side plantation on the western edge of the Great Pasture to incorporate four large clumps of trees shown on the 1850s Ordnance Survey map.

Historical Significance:

The hall's location in Rudston, a village with its own storied history, adds to its significance within the local context. Rudston is perhaps best known for its Neolithic monolith, the Rudston Monolith, which stands as one of the tallest megaliths in Britain and is a point of intrigue for archaeologists and historians. Thorpe Hall, as a neighbour to this ancient landmark, contributes to the unique historical tapestry of the area.

Current Status:

Thorpe Hall is privately owned and used as a residence. Given the hall's historical significance and architectural beauty, it has likely continued to be appreciated by its owners and visitors alike. Thorpe Hall, continues to support the local community, opening its grounds annually for the Snowdrop Walk (the best in the area!!) to support the local Church, All Saints, Rudston and events to support Yorkshire Air Ambulance.

Rudston's Recipes

ROASTED BUTTERNUT SQUASH AND SAGE RISOTTO

Ingredients

- 1 small butternut squash, peeled, seeded and diced into 1/2-inch cubes
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 cup Arborio rice
- 1/2 cup dry white wine (optional)
- 4-5 cups vegetable or chicken broth, kept warm
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons fresh sage leaves, chopped
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Salt and black pepper to taste

Method

- Preheat your oven to 400°F (200°C).
- Toss the diced butternut squash with 1 tbsn of olive oil, season with salt & pepper and spread it out on a baking sheet. Roast the squash in the preheated oven for about 20-25 minutes or until it's tender and lightly caramelized. Set aside.
- In a large skillet or saucepan, heat the remaining 1 tbsn of olive oil over medium heat. Add the chopped onion & garlic and sauté until they become translucent.
- Stir in the Arborio rice and cook for about 2 minutes, or until the rice is lightly toasted.
- If using, pour in the white wine and cook until it's mostly absorbed by the rice.
- Begin adding the warm broth, one ladle at a time, stirring frequently and allowing each addition to be absorbed by the rice before adding more. Continue this process until the rice is creamy and cooked to your desired level of tenderness (usually about 18-20 minutes).
- Stir in the roasted butternut squash and chopped sage leaves. Cook for an additional 2-3 minutes, allowing the flavours to meld.
- Remove the risotto from the heat and stir in the grated Parmesan cheese. Season with additional salt & black pepper to taste.
- Serve the butternut squash and sage risotto hot, garnished with extra Parmesan cheese and sage leaves if desired.

CLASSIC THANKSGIVING STUFFING

Ingredients

- 1 loaf of day-old white bread, cut into cubes (about 12 cups)
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) unsalted butter
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 3-4 celery stalks, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons dried sage
- 1 teaspoon dried thyme
- 1 teaspoon dried rosemary
- Salt and black pepper to taste
- 2-3 cups low-sodium chicken or vegetable broth

Method

- Preheat your oven to 350°F (175°C).
- Spread the bread cubes on a baking sheet and toast them in the oven for about 10-15 minutes, or until they are dry and slightly golden. Remove them from the oven and set aside.
- In a large skillet or pan, melt the butter over medium heat. Add the chopped onion, celery & garlic and sauté until they are soft and fragrant.
- Stir in the dried sage, thyme, rosemary, salt & black pepper. Cook for an additional 1-2 minutes, allowing the spices to become aromatic.
- In a large mixing bowl, combine the toasted bread cubes and the sautéed vegetable mixture. Toss everything together to evenly distribute the flavours.
- Gradually add the chicken or vegetable broth to the mixture, starting with 2 cups. You want the stuffing to be moist but not overly soggy. Add more broth if needed.
- Transfer the stuffing mixture to a greased baking dish and cover it with aluminium foil.
- Bake in the preheated oven for about 30 minutes. Then, remove the foil and bake for an additional 15-20 minutes, or until the top is golden and crispy.
