Editor's Letter

Dear Everyone,

Well up to now, this has been quite a dismal month, as far as the inclement weather is concerned. However, as I am writing this, it is a warm day and the sun has made a welcome appearance.will it last?!

I would like to welcome Jason Bennet and his partner Megan who have moved into the Bosville Arms, with their dog Roxy.

Jason is the landlord and has been running the pub since it reopened last year and it certainly is a place to go, with a good restaurant and various forms of entertainment. I have known Jason since he was eight, attending the school where I worked prior to retirement. He was always a hard working and diligent little boy and he has grown into a very hard working young man, with a great sense of humour.

I would also like to welcome Brendon and Helen McEvoy and their son Ciaran, who have recently moved into Swallow Barn. Ciaran is home for the summer, from Newcastle University where he is studying Mechanical engineering.

I hope that anyone else who has moved into the village has received a warm welcome. There are many activities in which to take part. We look forward next month to the family fun day at Thorpe. Read on for further details.

It is pleasing to see that the Rudston Youth group is starting in July. I wish them luck with this and hope that lots of young people join.

I recently received an email from Alan, the clerk to the Parish Council in Laxton, near Howden, saying that he was looking on line at many newsletters, as they wanted to start one. They liked the format of ours. I had to admit that it is Nick who does all the graphics and the clever stuff. I told him about all the people who were involved in the publication, printing and delivery.

He seemed very impressed, writing that it seemed like a very “well oiled machine”

Thank you once again to all those involved and a big thank you to all those who contribute articles every month. After my appeal for puzzles, Chris Gatenby has sent a number sequence, which you can try on page 20 and has promised more, so thank you for that. I hope others may follow suite.

Further on in this edition, there is an advert for yoga classes with Rebecca. I have never taken part in yoga, always preferring zumba and tap dancing. However at the beginning of this year, I decided I needed a change and headed off to the village hall, one Wednesday evening. I am full of admiration for all those people who do yoga; they are so supple and lithe. Needless to say, I found it really hard, due mainly to my appalling lack of agility. Later, as I meandered home on very wobbly and unsteady legs, I must have looked as if I had spent too much time in the pub! However I must say that it becomes easier each week and it is a really good way to relax. I have still a long way to go, but I can certainly recommend it and it is a great facility to have in our village hall.

I would like to wish good luck to all those young people who are awaiting exam results. If anyone is heading off to further or higher education, it would be really good if parents could let me have some details to put in the September issue.

There is an interesting email from a lady, who is tracing her family tree and would like information from anyone with a certain name. There is someone in the village bearing this surname.....read on and all will be revealed!

Have a lovely summer.

From the Vicarage,

In the church calendar things quieten off through July and August: after our school leavers services (at Boynton and Kilham) there are no school events, no special festivals and the lucky ones are off on holiday. Also our Trailblazers won't meet during the summer but of course start up again in September. But don't despair you young people (and young at heart!) because we will have an all-age get together (informal service) on the last Sunday in August at 4pm.

You may see another vicar type around the village soon: The Reverend James Trowsdale. James is coming as our new curate (trainee vicar). He will be ordained at York Minster on the 5th July and we will have a service to welcome him to Rudston that evening: please come and meet him and his family.

On a last note, this is the July and August edition which means Summer is upon us. I'm looking forward to a good break in summer so I hope there are a few weeks when you don't see much of me! Have a fine and relaxing summer.

Every blessing,
Glyn

Letter to the Editor

A BIG THANK YOU

To the person or persons who came to my assistance and called an ambulance, when I was taken ill. This happened on Saturday 13th June, whilst walking my dogs.

Following a couple of days in hospital I am now on the mend.
Thank you.

ALL THE WAY FROM AUSTRALIA

My name is Janet Mcarthur and at present I'm doing our family tree in the name of Warcup.

I have gone back in the tree to a Matheus Warcup who married a Jana Scoresby in 1663 at Rudston. They had a son also called Matheus Warcup born in 1664 at Rudston.

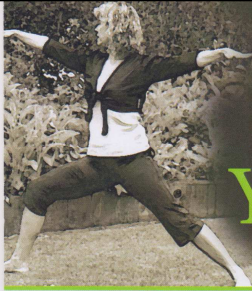

I'm trying to find out more about this family of Warcup who lived in Rudston or descendants of them. Is the surname still in Rudston If any body can help me it would be appreciated.

With thanks

A Special thanks to Simon & Angela Dawson for all their hard work organising and hosting the Walk & Open Garden Birthday Celebration and help with the other Winifred events.

June Sellers (Social secretary for Rudston P.C.C)

On the 2nd June Jenny Herring, President, welcomed 18 members to the monthly meeting.

Our speakers were Clive Richardson and his wife who gave a very interesting talk about "The Women Who Didn't Exist". We heard fascinating details of the life of a woman called Margaret Burns. This included horrifying details of the atrocious conditions that soldiers in WW1 suffered on enemy lines. Ultimately Clive and his wife explained how the consequences of the war affected Margaret in 1917. They asked us not to divulge too many details of the story, so as not to spoil the astonishing outcome of the tale for future listeners. We were told that there is a follow up story that delves deeper into Margaret's off spring. We look forward to Mr and Mrs Richardson returning and sharing this tale with us. Clive judged our competition which this month was A Family Tree.

1st prize went to Margaret Reed, 2nd to June Sellers and 3rd to Joyce Peace. This month's raffle was won by Jean Kitching.

Our Luncheon Club this month was held at the Bull & Sun Bridlington

The next meeting is on Tuesday 7th July when the speaker will be Robert Chester talking about "Sewerby Hall Today"

If you are interested in joining or would like to come along as a visitor to listen to any of our speakers, you would be made very welcome.

WI go to London

On June 4th June Sellers represented our WI at the 2015 Centenary Annual Meeting, broadcast live from the Royal Albert Hall

Four other members went to Cineworld in Hull to watch the proceedings streamed live on the big screen. Just before 11am The Queen, The Princess Royal and The Countess of Wessex were escorted into the Hall.

The Queen was presented with the WI Centenary Link Baton, which had travelled all over the country. The Queen then addressed the delegates after which all three royals were presented with a bouquet of flowers, they then left the hall to sample the famous WI Fruit Cake. The speaker for the morning was Lucy Worsley, Historian, who is curator of some of the unoccupied palaces and has an office at Hampton Court.

After lunch we were entertained by the winning WI Choir singing "Singing for Joy". Our speakers for the afternoon were Baroness Grey-Thompson DBE who spoke of her life, followed by Helena Morrissey CBE who spoke about women in the Boardroom. To finish the day off we had a Fashion Show by the students from the Kingston Project.

The Garden Party at Buckingham Palace on June 2nd was enjoyed by 800 WI members from all over the country, the weather was kind. What an experience it was for our members.

Before I say have a good Summer!!!! here is the first re-sume concerning the Musical Allsorts evening OCTOBER 2nd.

The night will consist of the usual mixture, and this year we hope to include a bit of Folk; Classical, Light Musical; A Morris Band and some Vocals. The Folk spot is Stuart Davidson, a popular local singer/song-writer known for his humour and songs of social comment. Stuart has performed around the uk, Europe and Canada with various groups. But now he's all "grown up" he has gone so-lo. From Festival Hall to Village Hall - he says he will go anywhere for a free supper!

Rebecca is filling the light opera / musical spot. We have known Rebecca since she was a toddler, so it's great to see how her career has blossomed she is currently based in York where she is a member of York Opera and has performed many roles with them. Steve Saunders will be providing piano accompaniment for Rebecca with her songs.

Don't forget - diaries out - October 2nd - Musical Allsorts.
Kate Evans

Tickets for the event will be £5, and this includes a light supper - bring your own drinks. Tickets will be available from the end of June - contact Bob and Kate - 01262 420901 or Sue and Nick 01262 420705

Crosslands Column

As the newsletter deadline happens to be same day as the parish council meeting of 24th June, the only thing to report is that as we have two candidates for the remaining parish council vacancy, we would expect that to be filled.

Following the “annual parish meeting” comment last month, it was learned that Rudston is far from the only village who find them difficult to support! Hutton Cranswick, a much bigger place, had the same number in attendance for theirs for example. Most (if not all) places can boast a newsletter, and it is interesting that Nafferton which still only produces a 4-page bi-monthly one is also one of the few places to have a busy annual meeting.

Meanwhile, electronic progress continues. Planning applications, even plans themselves, will soon be dealt with by computer, and the Chairman and I attended a meeting on that subject in June. It seems that this could actually dictate form and frequency of parish council meetings. At first hearing it all seems a little bewildering, but we shall have to see how it works out.

One area of progress so far resisted in Rudston is payment of accounts. Electronic methods are available, but we still like the safety of cheques signed by two members. That approach may be the main reason that there are few (and none this year) questions when presenting the annual Income & Expenditure figures. Meanwhile, the Audit return was duly submitted at the beginning of the month.

“Armed Forces Day” will have been and gone by the time this appears, but if you are reading it before Sunday, 5th July, all is not yet lost. There is a big event in Beverley that day, commencing with a short service of hymns and prayers in Saturday Market Place at 11 a.m.

There will then be various entertainments through the day including (weather permitting) a fly-past by a Dakota aircraft.

Later in the month, an open-top bus service around Bridlington and up to Flamborough Head is to re-start after a gap of about 20 years. It is supposed to be running daily from 18th July to 5th September, but I wonder if there might be a bit of “weather permitting” there too!

Unless anything special arises, the next parish council meeting will be in August. Notice will appear in the usual way. We often see notices from other villages on the Long Street notice board, and I'm not sure if they ask anyone, but one who did was Langtoft. They avoided the accounts notices period at my request, and we were invited to display Winifred Holtby notices there. (Something of a reciprocal arrangement). “Our” notices should always come first, but we do try to accommodate others if possible.

After recent newsletter correspondence about roadside litter, it was disappointing to find an invoice belonging to an Eastgate resident amongst a “fresh deposit” in June. (I shall not name names – yet!)

Gardening Corner

Did anyone watch any of the TV programmes from the RHS Chelsea Flower Show? I saw most of them and decided that the only two items that really impressed me were the introduction of a perennial of the antirrhinum family and the other was the exhibit of Lupin varieties. They were all produced from the original strain we know as Russel Lupins. Raised in the 1930's by a jobbing gardener on his allotment, George Russel who lived to the ripe old age of 94. He was one of the few realised that Mendal was right when he proposed the fact that genetics can produce superior forms of plant species and varieties.

Enough of Chelsea, we are now in the summer of growing and will soon be reaping the results of the earliest sowing and planting in the vegetable garden. At the end of July sow spring cabbage seeds outdoors and in August vegetables to stand the winter, also cabbages, savoys and kales. Keep a supply of lettuce plants for a garden frame this autumn.

To raise many perennials from semi-ripe cuttings, all that's needed is a garden frame and a sandy soil. Short shoots (3"long) of many shrubs and trees are rooted in shaded frames, lavender, herbs and many more. I intend rooting hydrangeas this year, this is a plant that is worth planting in any garden. The beds around the walls at Burton Agnes Hall flower every summer and are of national interest to gardeners in the UK.

Shallots look like being ready to lift and dry out, the onions, at the time of writing, have a bit to go but hopefully by the end of August the bulbs should be swelling and by the end of September I hope to have well rounded onions for the next winter.

Don't forget to prune the summer fruiting varieties of raspberries, after the harvest. Now is also the time to make a fresh strawberries from healthy runners. Also don't forget blackcurrants, cut away all old fruiting shoots, to leave the new ones for next summer's crop.

Dick Robinson
