Editor's Letter

Dear Everyone,

I hope that you are all feeling well and not letting these difficult times unsettle you too much. Of course it is good that we can now go out in the car and meet people outside. I expect that it will be a long time before we can meet our families without social distancing. It has just become so normal that we step aside when we meet people in the village so that we can pass at a safe distance. Does anyone else have social distancing in dreams, as I sometimes do?

Once again, I must thank all those who help us in these challenging times. Please see below. Where would we be without you? We are really lucky, because our neighbour, Julian, brings us and several neighbours an Indian take away from Joypur Tandoori take away restaurant, every Saturday night. We look forward to this, as a welcome change. I also look forward to the Thursday evening clap , as it has become a great social occasion, where we meet our neighbours.

Thank you to Chris and Derek who have both sent quizzes for the news letter. Again, we have added extra puzzles and riddles for readers.

As I said in last month's edition, during the lockdown, I write stories for our younger grandchildren and post them off. I included one in last month's newsletter as I thought we would be short of pages to fill. A few people have said that they will read these to their grandchildren, so I have included another one, this month.

It was good to see that people in the village had little social distance gatherings for the VE celebrations. It was great that the weather was so warm and sunny.....although, we would probably have sat out in torrential rain, as we were all looking forward so much to seeing our friends and neighbours and doing something different!

I hope that all children and teachers who are returning to school have a positive experience, although I know that all teachers have been working hard throughout the lockdown.

It is great news about the community pub, see on page 3 and thanks to the committee chaired by Ian Symonds for all their hard work.

Dear Friends,

Once again this isn't the usual timetable of church services and events; Coronavirus has dramatically changed all that. Our buildings continue to remain closed for public worship. As I write baptisms, weddings and funerals can't take place in church. However our churchyards remain open and, where families have wanted that option, I've been part of some lovely graveside farewells.

All that said we are finding new ways to worship and look after one another. Many of us have been dragged into the digital world of Zoom and Facebook. Our excellent Rudston village Facebook page is getting a lot more use.

On a Sunday we now have a 'Zoom' service at 11am. We also have a Wednesday service at 10am. (All are welcome, and you'll find the service links below) We had over 50 last Sunday!

We are also planning a 'Zoom' Christianity, nuts and bolts session (by request!). It will be weekly for about four weeks, lasting half an hour and cover a few fundamentals of what it means to be a Christian. Get in touch if you want details; starting second week of June.

Lots of online content has sprung up from the Church of England nationally (600,000 joined the Archbishop of Canterbury for his live streamed Easter Service!). Continued on page 6

Bridlington Emmanuel and the Priory churches are streaming service too. Should you want to dabble, Google, 'A Church Near You', or 'The Church of England' websites. If computing leaves you cold or you don't have a smartphone there is also something for you. Love and every blessing in these difficult times

Glyn

Our Social Committee members are all keeping well and busy at home doing all the things they never have time to do when involved in organising our social and fund raising events.

It is amazing what you come across when tidying up or clearing out. If anyone is interested in reading Connie Stephenson's, "book" about her life from a child onwards. "My Life - Recollections of a Railway Child". and this continues on to her life in Rudston with Wilf. They were both good supporters of the Church and Connie came to Church regularly after the Chapel closed and liked to read a lesson. She was a good baker and provided cakes and pies for our stalls and Wilf made wooden planters ( 2 of which are still in use in our garden) and bird boxes and bird tables. It is a shame we don't all write down our recollections because I know there are many tales to tell but writing them down is a different matter and without the written word they will be lost. If anyone would like to borrow her book which I have in the form of a file please let me know. In the mean time our Social Committee are keeping well and doing as advised regarding Social Distancing .

Mike and I have been participating in the Zoom Communion set up by Glyn's team on Sunday mornings at 11 a.m. We do appreciate being able to join in and find it a good substitute for the real thing.. Please keep safe.

Best Wishes .

June Sellers ( Social Secretary to Rudston P.C.C)

I am a Seenager (senior teenager)

- * I have everything that I wanted as a teenager, only 50 years later
  - * I don't have to go to school or work
    - * I get an allowance every month
    - * I have my own house
    - * I don't have a curfew
  - * I have a driving license, and my own car
- * I have ID that gets me into pubs and clubs and lets me buy alcohol anywhere.
  - * The people I hang around with are not scared of getting pregnant.
    - * And I don't have acne.
- * Life is good! Also, you will feel much more intelligent after reading this if you are a seenager .
- * Brains of older people are slow because they know so much. People do not decline mentally with age; it just takes longer to recall facts because they have more information in their brains. Scientists believe that this also makes you hard of hearing as it puts pressure on your inner ear.
- * Also, older people often go into another room to get something and when they get there, they stand there wondering what they came for. It is NOT a memory problem, it is nature's way or making older people do more exercise.
- * I have more friends who would like a copy of this, but right now I can't remember their names. So please, if you want a copy for your friends tell me because they may be my friends too!

I am so pleased we managed to celebrate our 90th Birthday in November with everyone who came along. When speakers are cancelled monthly I am re-booking them for next year. It will save a lot of time in creating a programme for next year. I delivered last months W.I. newsletter and other correspondence by bike and put them through the letter box without seeing anyone on the day we should have had our W.I. Meeting.

I hope to do the same with the May news. I'd like to remind members to consider the National Resolutions and be ready to give me their vote over the phone in May. Also I found the National W I Raffle tickets which need to be sold before September 25th at £1 each so if anyone would like one or some they can tell me and I will put the money in and get it back at a later date.. The first Prize is £10,000 with 3 other good prizes. The raffle is open to anyone so let me know if you would like a ticket. I suspect the National W.I. will need the support more than ever. I also have been sent a Pattern for a Lap Mat and a Pattern for a Twiddle Muff, a knitting pattern. If anyone other than W I members would like to make one of these I can photocopy one and let you have it.

I think the following Poem is appropriate for us all . It was read by our East Yorkshire President - Marianne Holmes- at the Yorkshire federation Centenary Celebration in York in February which Hazel and I attended on behalf of Rudston W.I.

Sing A Song Of Yorkshire

Sing a song of Yorkshire, from the Humber to the Tees.
Of horses , wool and terriers, of pudding and of cheese.
I know no other county where the land is quite so fine
England's lovely county.And I'm proud to call it mine.

Where shining purple heather stretches far across the moor,
And Lapwing's cry above me takes the place of traffic roar.
And peace comes drifting gently, there's no place I'd rather be
Than this land of hills and valleys , from the Pennines to the sea.

So when I've done my roaming and when my steps grow slow;
When heart and mind assure me that the time has come to go,
Then let me rest in Yorkshire, for it's there I want to lie
Neath sun and wind and heather .....and a gleaming Yorkshire sky.

By Doreen Bringham Harrogate.

Finally congratulations are in order from the W.I. to Lorna and Art Moore on their 62nd Wedding Anniversary

Best wishes and Keep Safe.

Rudston Tennis Club

Playing Field -suggestions please

We are fortunate to have a lovely playing field in our village. However it is not used as much as it could be. This has become particularly apparent now that organised sport in terms of cricket, tennis, bowls and football matches cannot be played. We would like to create more opportunities for informal activity especially for young people in the area near the cricket nets. Suggestions so far include a football rebounder net, a wall with a football goal marked on it and a line at tennis net level, a basketball hoop. What does anyone think about these ideas? Are there any other ideas?

The temporary dug out has blown down and needs replacing with something more robust. One idea is to install a converted shipping container with seating so that spectators could enjoy watching football matches with some shelter from the elements. This would mean adjusting the position of the football pitch slightly whilst retaining most of the cricket square. Any views on this?

Peter Crossley

Secretary Rudston Playing Field

We will aim to drop two rolls of caddy bags on your doorstep as soon as we can. Emma Jasper

Waste & Recycling Officer

As feared all Driffield League and Cup matches have been cancelled for the season. There was no news on the Wednesday league, but the assumption must be that the same will apply. The earliest possible start as far as we understand would be mid-June and they would already need other days as well as Wednesdays to fit in a full season's matches. Quite apart from other difficulties as mentioned previously of course.

Naturally all Friendly matches have gone the same way. This is certainly not the sort of anniversary year our friends at Leven had in mind.

A decision on our own club matches will be made later. It could be that only Singles games can sensibly be played, but if members have any particular thoughts on this they may like to contact chairman or secretary please. As of 20th May the national association were still assessing the situation and appear to be waiting for further advice themselves before advising clubs.

The green is being kept mown however and available for "practice" while obviously bearing in mind rules of life as they are updated (dictated?) by government. Mind you, after the escapades of a well-known public figure were revealed, we could probably bend the rules a little if so desired.

WHO WOULD BELIEVE IT?

“Excuse me. Please can I borrow your specs?”

Tobias looked around, in surprise, wondering who was speaking. There was no one else in the garden, as his brother and sister were playing inside. Tobias was staying with his family at Gran and Grandpas and he was busy planting some flowers at the bottom of the garden. This was most strange, as the only other sound was the chirping of the birds, singing happily in the tall trees on this beautiful sunny day.

Tobias gazed across the field in front of him, seeing only cows munching mouthfuls of grass.

“Excuse me”, came the voice again.

“Where are you? I can’t see anybody,” said Tobias, rather impatiently, as he searched around the garden.

“I’m here just around the corner in the field”.

Tobias looked in amazement as he saw a large black and white cow shaking her head as if she was beckoning to him.

Well it can’t be the cow, as cows only moo. They don’t speak and they certainly don’t wear glasses.

“Yes. I am talking to you and I really would like to borrow your glasses if that is OK.”

Tobias considered his position. If he ran inside and told everyone that a cow was talking to him, the family would laugh and think that he was making a great joke.

On the other hand, if he entered into this unlikely conversation, he would be admitting that he could see and hear a talking cow.

He was becoming a little bored of planting the flowers and rather fancied an adventure.

“Can you come over here cow and then I can talk more easily to you.”

The cow lumbered up to the fence, swishing her tail and telling him that her name was Clarissa.

“Why do you need to wear my glasses?” asked Tobias.

Clarissa told him that she had lost one of her calves and as she was very short sighted, she couldn’t see across the field. Tobias, feeling rather silly talking to a cow, explained that his glasses could not possibly fit her. She blinked slowly as large tears slipped down her beautiful long eyelashes.

“Well alright,” said Tobias as he took off his glasses, perching them on the long nose of the Clarissa. “As you can see....well that’s just it, you can’t can you? They just don’t fit you.” In fact as Tobias explained to the very upset cow, there isn’t such an item as cow glasses.

“You are only a little boy and perhaps you don’t know everything,” the cow snorted rather crossly. “I expect there are cow spectacles somewhere in the world.”

“Well. I’ve never seen a cow optician ,” replied Tobias, “And I am not a little boy. I am almost 8.” He stretched as tall as he could and found himself looking straight into the very sad eyes of the cow.

“Well what will happen to my calf. I can see the other one and she is quite safe.”

Clarissa told him that she was worried as the cowman wasn’t due for several hours.

“Can you tell the time, as well as talk?” said Tobias and then felt rather mean for saying such a spiteful thing. However the cow surprised him by replying that she could indeed tell the time and always looked at the garden clock on the side of Grandpa’s shed.

Tobias thought to himself that this situation was so strange. No one would believe him, so he might as well help Clarissa. He climbed over the fence and jumped down into the field. All the other cows gazed curiously at him. Tobias was glad the bull wasn’t in the field today, as he was rather cautious of him. Clarissa explained to her friends that Tobias was helping her and they all nodded their heads mooded gently. “So they can’t talk then”, thought Tobias as he set off through the field, holding his stick. He had explained to Clarissa that all boys liked to hold sticks, on their adventures; especially clever and brave boys like Tobias. He searched everywhere in the field as Clarissa lumbered behind him. He was becoming quite fed up, as he wondered to where this special little calf could have disappeared. He wanted to give up and go back to Gran and Grandpa’s, as his legs were aching and he was becoming very tired. However, as it has been pointed out, Tobias was a brave boy and was not going to return without finding the calf.

Suddenly, he heard a faint moo in the direction of the stream on the other side of the field. Tobias started to run towards the sound, swishing his stick as he went.

When he reached the stream, he saw that the calf was lying down on the other side on the bank, surrounded by lots of mud. She seemed unable to move. Tobias waded through the water, but decided that he may hurt the calf if he tried to move him. He explained this to Clarissa and they both agreed that she would stay with her calf, whilst Tobias ran for help. She was very grateful and thanked Tobias as he set off, back to the garden.

He ran into the house and told of his adventure, without mentioning the short-sighted, talking cow.....well who would believe him?!

Gran rang the cowman, who came quickly to the field and rescued the little calf. Everyone was pleased with Tobias and he was quite the hero that day. "How did you know that the calf was lost?" asked his mummy and daddy.

Tobias replied that he was just exploring and realised that the calf was in difficulties.

Who would believe that Tobias had had an adventure with a short sighted, time telling, talking cow, named Clarissa. Tobias didn't know if he believed it himself.....

SIBLINGS QUIZ

1. Bob, Don, Dick and Andy were the “William Brothers” a singing quartet from America who started performing in the mid 1930’s. They toured in the USA and internationally, appeared in films and sang with Bing Crosby on his hit song “Swinging on a Star”. The act broke up in 1951 and Andy Williams continued with a successful solo career.
2. Triathletes Alastair and Jonny Brownlee, born Dewsbury. At the 2012 London Olympics Alastair won the Triathlon event and Jonny came third. In 2012 if Yorkshire had been treated as an independent country it would have been 12th in the medal table. In the Rio Olympics of 2016 Alastair took the gold medal and Jonny the silver, the first time in Olympic history that brothers have taken first and second place in an individual event. Olympic Triathlon distances are swim of 1.5km, bicycle route of 40km, run of 10km. In 2012 Alastair’s winning time was 1; 46; 25.
3. Edward V and Richard, Duke of York are often called “The Princes in the Tower” When their father, Edward IV died in 1483 they were his only surviving sons, aged 12 and 9. Their Uncle, the Lord Protector, Richard, Duke of Gloucester lodged them in the Tower of London, supposedly in preparation for Edward’s coronation. However the brothers were declared illegitimate and Richard became king. The young princes were never seen again and it is generally assumed that they were killed by Richard.
4. Ross and Norris McWhirter, sports journalists. Norris was the commentator when Roger Bannister ran the first sub 4 minute mile. One of the supporting athletes on that day was Christopher Chataway, who worked for Guinness. His boss Sir Hugh Beaver had an idea to produce a book of records. He was introduced to the twins who were well known for their knowledge of records and facts. They started work on the Guinness Book of Records in 1954, in 1955 it was Britain’s best selling non fiction book, and has remained a best seller ever since.
5. Alan, Wayne, Merrill and Jay started singing as a barbershop quartet “The Osmond Brothers” in the 1960’s. They were later joined by Donny and Jimmy, when Donny joined the group became known as “The Osmonds” The peak of their popularity was from 1970 to 1975.
6. Chang and Eng Bunker were conjoined twins, born in 1811 in Siam.
